ELECTRIC CITY SPARKLETS

Items of Interest and Personal Mention Caught Over the Wireless on the Street of Anderson

Felton Goes to Capital City.
County Superintendent of Education J. B. Felton went to Columbia yesterday for the purpose of conferring with other members of a committee of the association of state county superintendents of education and Prof. W. W. Long of Clemson College. State agent of the farmers cooperative demonstration work, with reference to the matter of teaching agriculture in the schools of the county. Mr. Felton and Superintendent Davis of Greenville and Gasque of Florence compose the committee.

But Two Cases in Recorder's Court.
But two cases were disposed of yesterday in the recorder's court. One John Berry pleaded guilty to charges of carrying concealed weapons, to wit, a pistol of unlawful specification, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 or serve 30 days on the chain-gang. Carrie Thompson, an old negro, was convicted of petit larceny, to wit, stealing a small quantity of cow feed from a local mill. She was sentenced to pay a fine of $5 or serve 10 days on the public works.

J. Belton Watson Is Recovering.
Friends of Mr. J. Belton Watson, who was operated on in Columbia several days ago, will be pleased to learn that he is rapidly recovering his health. Latest reports from his bedside were to the effect that he is able to sit up and take a few steps about his room. It is thought that he will be able to return home the last of this week.

Gluck Mill Still Idle.
The Gluck Mill is still idle as a result of its shutting down last week on account of weavers and spinners having gone on a strike. As yet, so far as can be learned, steps have been taken by neither employees nor mill management looking to a settlement of the trouble. The best of feeling prevails, it is stated, and there has been no evidence of rowdiness on the part of anyone who has been employed in the mill.

J. E. Derrick Is Remodelling His.
Work of remodelling the "Little Gem" cafe, at 128 West Whittier street, of which Mr. J. E. Derrick is owner, has been under way since the first of the week. The old floor of the building has been torn out and a new one is being put down. Other marked improvements are to be made in the place, and when completed will present a greatly altered and improved appearance. Mr. Derrick states that he will have his new place ready for business by Saturday, and possibly earlier.

Cotton Still Bringing 8 Cts.
Cotton was quoted yesterday on the streets of the city at 8 cents, the price which has prevailed for the past several days. There was very little of the staple offered for sale yesterday, however, and cotton buyers on the square found little in this line to claim their attention.

W. A. Power Painting Interior of Store.
The Anderson Paint and Color Company has the contract for repainting the interior of W. A. Power's store on the west side of South Main street. When completed the store will present a greatly improved appearance. With the attractive display windows for which Power is noted and these improvements, he will have a place of business second to none in this section for the elegance of its several appointments.

County Farmers Union in Session.
The Anderson County Farmers Union met yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in the county courthouse, for the purpose of discussing business for the ensuing year and electing officers. The following officers were chosen: J. W. Rothrock, president; J. P. Johnson, vice president; Jim Broyles, secretary and treasurer; Bob Moorehead, chaplain; H. H. Acker, doorkeeper; G. W. Laboon, conductor.

G. W. Laboon Conductor.
Today being Ash Wednesday, marks the beginning of the Lenten season, one of the most important seasons of the Episcopal and the Roman Catholic church calendars. At Grace Episcopal church services will be held today at the following hours: 11 a. m., reading of the penitential office and celebration of the Holy Eucharist; 4 p. m., evening prayer. At St. Joseph's Catholic church mass will be celebrated this morning at 7:30 o'clock; station of the Cross at 7:30 this evening. At 8 o'clock Thursday evening at Grace Church service will be held, with an address by the rector. Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock service will be held for the children of the parish and their friends.

Vulcanizing Plant Has Been Moved.
Mr. J. T. Templeton has moved his vulcanizing plant from the Central Garage to the Brown-Watson building, 22 North McDuffie street. He will carry a complete line of tires and other auto accessories.

LONG STRUGGLE FINALLY ENDS

Gore bill, the senate continued its discussion of cloture rules and senate leaders of all factions conferred as to the next moves to be made. Reports had it that the administration forces tomorrow would attempt to shut off all debate by moving the previous question, and thus forcing a vote on a motion to concur in the house amendments. Should this prevail it would be equivalent to passage of the ship purchase bill measure and thereby end the long and turbulent fight.

Senate committees in charge of appropriation bills were active preparing the supply measures for senate consideration as soon as the legislative ways are cleared.

The ship bill as it will go to the senate from the house includes the ship purchase measure as agreed upon in senate caucus, and a provision that two years after the close of the European war ships acquired by the United States shall be turned over to the secretary of the navy to be operated or leased for commercial purposes under the terms of the Weeks bill already passed by the senate.

Senator Smoot has given notice that the debate will be continued by the opposition until March 4 unless the Democrats withdrew the measure or some unusual tactics are resorted to by administration forces.

Charges of improper influences exerted with relation to the bill order.

EDUCATION BILL SENT TO FREE CONFERENCE

SENATOR LANEY ENTERS OBJECTION TO COMMITTEE APPOINTED

BITTER ATTACK ON M'LAURIN

Debate on Amendment to Abolish State Warehouse Moves Merrily on

Special to The Intelligencer.

COLUMBIA, Feb. 16.—The compulsory education bill was sent to free conference tonight. Lieutenant Governor Bethea appointed Senators Sinker, Carlisle and Lee on the free conference on the part of the senate. Objection to the committee was voiced by Senator Laney on the ground he said, that not a member of the committee represented the majority of the senate on the compulsory education bill, and he gave notice that if the free conference committee did not bring in a report in accordance with the majority idea of the senate he would fight the report and do what he could to kill the bill, and he called on the senators who had voted as he did to stand behind him.

Led by Senators Stuckey, Buck and Jno. F. Williams debate on the Lee amendment to devolve the duties of the warehouse commissioner moved merrily on in the senate tonight. The trio of senators mentioned attacked the Lee amendment and urged its defeat. A bitter attack on the warehouse commissioner was delivered by Senator Lee in his broadside tonight. "I would like to ask those senators who have eulogized Jon. L. McLaurin if they are willing to risk their political future by going over the State and defend him," was the challenge hurled by Senator Lee.

"We all know that it is impossible for Mr. McLaurin to come back in politics because his record would bear inspection," continued the Darlington senator. The debate revolved around Mr. McLaurin, some flaying him and others eulogizing him. The Lee amendment was tabled 27 to 13 and the bill enlarging the powers of the State warehouse commissioner was then passed and sent to the house.

Debate on the fifty car bill occupied the time of the senate tonight and was adjourned over until tomorrow morning. Many railroad men crowded the galleries to listen to the debate. Senator Nickles leading the fight for the bill. Governor Manning tonight signed the prohibition referendum bill.

ed investigated by the senate yesterday, were taken under consideration today by the special senate committee and the formal inquiry will begin tomorrow morning. Bernard N. Barker, of Baltimore, former manager of the Atlantic Transport Line, and Sigmund Albert, of New York, representative of some of the German-American steamship companies, have been summoned by the committees and are expected to appear at that time.

Representative Webb, of North Carolina, opening debate for the bill in the house, declared that the United States now was confronted with "the greatest opportunity that any nation ever found in foreign commerce."

"It seems to me that at one part of this capital they are adding while Rome burns," he added, "the said government ownership 'had no terror' for him, citing the activities of the government in the Philippines, the Panama railroad and the Alaskan railroad to show that the United States already was in private business. Representatives Humphrey, of Washington; Moore, Pennsylvania; Madden, Illinois, and many Republicans spoke against the measure, and Representatives Adamson, Georgia; Small, North Carolina; Eagle, Texas; McKeel, Tennessee, and other Democrats supported it.

Both floor and galleries were crowded as the debate narrowed a close. Representative Mann made the concluding arguments against the bill, declaring it was unnecessary and liable to involve the United States in international complications.

"I believe the president is sincere in his desire to maintain absolute neutrality," said Mr. Mann. "In that respect I stand behind him. I want to keep this country out of war. If we reach the point where we have to fight for our rights we will all fight with equal enthusiasm, but we ought to take no steps that lead to trouble, and this bill may bring foreign difficulties and perhaps war."

Representative Alexander, of Missouri, closed the debate for the bill just before midnight with a vigorous defense of President Wilson. "Let us take it for granted that this bill originated at the White House," he said, "can you find a better source? There is no man of higher ideals or more profound learning, of higher statesmanship than the man in the White House today. It is contemptible for you Republicans to try to slur him."

"If the Republican leader is right in his statement that he believed the president is sincere in his desire for neutrality, what becomes of all these predictions that this bill will lead to war? Certainly the president will see to it that no ships are purchased which might involve this country in phrasology."

Cheers came from the Democratic side as Mr. Alexander concluded and called for a vote. The Republicans indicated their intention of demanding roll calls on all amendments, and the first was taken on a change in phrasology.

SLEW HIS WIFE AND CUT HIMSELF

C. R. Alexander of Pelzer Lodged in Jail on Serious Charge

Charged with having murdered his wife, by severing her throat with a sharp knife or razor, C. R. Alexander, an employee of Pelzer Cotton Mill No. 4, is occupying a cell at the county jail, and is himself in a dangerous condition, as he slashed his own throat with the same weapon.

About 9 o'clock yesterday morning Sheriff Ashley was notified over the telephone by officers at Pelzer of the fearful incident, and the former instructed the officers to bring the prisoner to Anderson. Alexander was brought here on the 1 o'clock interurban car.

When seen at the jail yesterday by a representative of The Intelligencer, Alexander could scarcely utter a syllable on account of the self-inflicted wound in his throat. Through officers of the jail, who had heard Alexander give his version of the trouble before his throat got in such condition that he could scarcely talk, something of the details of the crime were learned.

So revolting are the details of the crime the man is charged with having committed and so nauseating is the story he gives as the explanation of the crime, those of more refined sensibilities would not care to hear them. Alexander stated that he and his wife separated last Monday afternoon, and that about 6 o'clock she returned to the house to get her belongings, when a quarrel ensued, and he, in a fit of anger, slashed her throat with a razor and then stabbed himself in the throat.

The man states that his wife acknowledged to him she had had relations with her sister's husband, and that this is what brought about the separation.

Rose Hill Club.
Yesterday was card afternoon at the Rose Hill Club and quite a number of ladies were present among whom was a charming and attractive newcomer Mrs. C. H. Bleich, who has come to make Anderson her home since Mr. Bleich has charge of the Anderson Theatre. Among the other players were Mesdames J. D. Hammett, E. F. Cochran, Alice Sykes, A. S. Farmer, J. E. Sadler, J. J. Baldwin, T. E. Howard, Bond Anderson, C. H. Bleich, S. N. Gilmer, Phelps Sassen, H. A. Orr, R. J. Ramer, C. A. Gambrell, T. L. Cely, John Anderson, B. B. Gossett, W. B. Valentine, J. L. Gray, D. S. Taylor, Misses Vina Patrick, Welma Polk of Tennessee, Annie Cooley and Denriex of Greenville.

Delightful Sewing Party.
Mrs. W. B. Steele was hostess to a few of her friends yesterday afternoon at a charming and informal little sewing party, at her home on Manning street. The afternoon was particularly pleasant and after sewing awhile, the hostess gave her guests an unique and original little contest which caused much merriment. Mrs. J. R. Vandiver and Mrs. D. S. Gray tied for the first prize which was won in cutting by Mrs. Vandiver—a beautiful pot of hyacinths.

Mrs. Steele's guests were: Mrs. J. R. Vandiver, Mrs. E. P. Vandiver, Mrs. D. S. Gray, Mrs. E. B. Richardson, Mrs. M. C. Dickson, Mrs. Quarry, Mrs. Kimbrough, Mrs. E. W. Taylor and Miss Morris.

Eugene Nardin Married.
The many friends here of Eugene Nardin will be interested in the announcement of his marriage to Miss Ruby Thomason of Atlanta, Ga., on February the seventh, by the Rev. Brinker, pastor of the First Christian church. Mr. Nardin is the youngest son of Mrs. W. H. Nardin of this city. Several years ago he moved to Atlanta and is in the cotton business with his brother-in-law, Mr. Sam Baker, also formerly of this city. He is a popular and promising young man, and has not a few friends here who join in good wishes for his happiness.

Palmatio Chapter.
A very pleasant and delightful meeting was held yesterday afternoon with Miss Bessie Major at her pretty home on South McDuffie street. In the absence of the president Miss Eubank Taylor, who is in Columbia and the first vice president Miss Martha Bonham who is in New York, the second vice president Mrs. Charlie Prevost presided most graciously, and all business was quickly disposed of. Four new members were unanimously elected, and Mrs. T. M. Barnett was elected treasurer in the place of Mrs. Mary Beatty, resigned.

On program for the afternoon was an attractive little recitation by Miss Helen Patrick and an interesting reading by Mrs. Arthur Holman. There was also a sweet solo by Miss Kathleen Norrey, and other music during the afternoon, which added much to the pleasure of the occasion. The attractive hostess assisted by Miss Nellie Barton, Jean and Florida Harris served an elegant and good course.
